

Ireland Gender Pay Gap Data

December 2023

“Whilst we are encouraged to see some progress this year, we are disappointed that a gender pay gap remains at LinkedIn Ireland. Our goal is to reach parity across all levels of our business to ensure equal opportunities for women and men. Until we reach that point, we will continue to closely examine the different factors that are contributing to our pay gap - including how we attract, hire and retain diverse talent to strengthen our company culture and build an inclusive environment for everyone.”

Gender Pay vs Equal Pay

The Gender Pay Gap is not the same as Equal Pay. At LinkedIn we regularly review and evaluate our pay practices to ensure all our employees are paid fairly regardless of their gender.

Gender Pay Gap

The Gender Pay Gap is the difference between the average hourly earnings of men and women.

Equal Pay

Equal Pay is about paying women and men the same amount for doing the same job and this is a legal requirement.

The Mean and Median explained

Mean refers to the sum of all the numbers divided by the amount of numbers in the set.

The median is the middle point, in which half the numbers are above the median and half are below.

What's Behind the Numbers

What we are doing to close the Gender Pay Gap

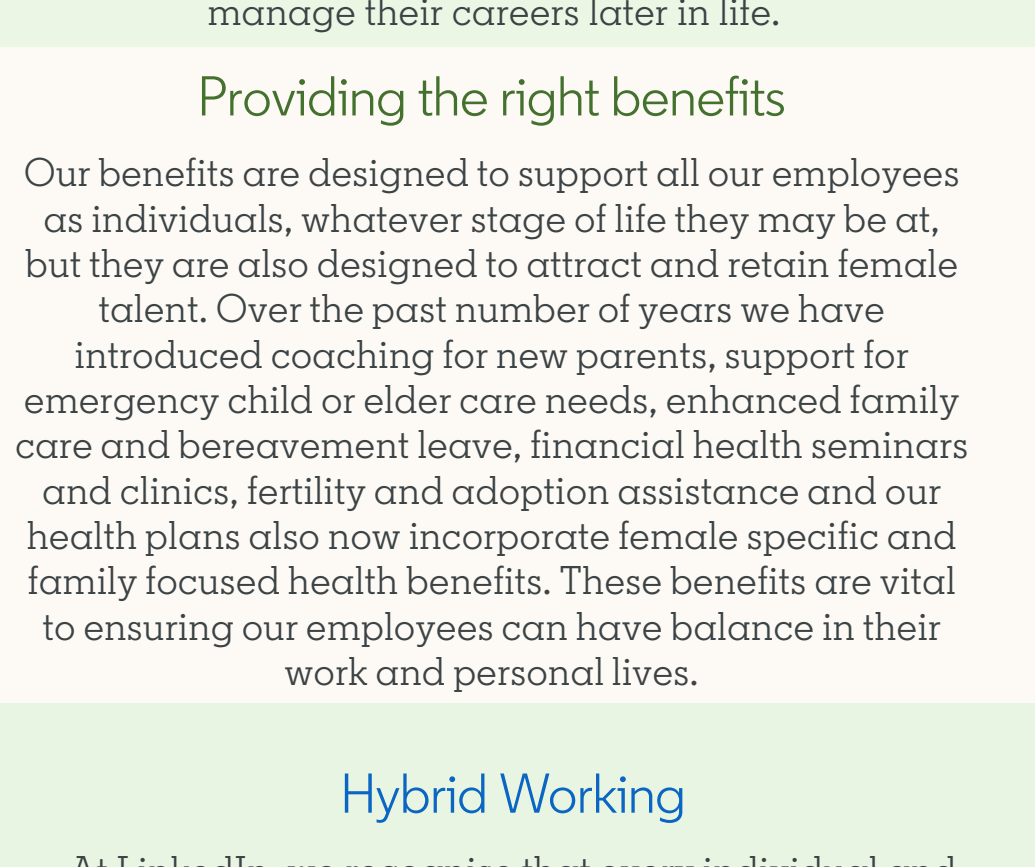

“Diversity, Inclusion and Belonging is our number one talent priority at LinkedIn, and we are focused on hiring & developing diverse talent, providing an inclusive and equitable environment for everyone. Over the past number of years, we have improved gender balance at all levels in the organisation, and have made significant progress in increasing female representation in leadership roles, and across our Dublin workforce overall. We have also introduced programmes and initiatives to support women at work, and to grow their careers at LinkedIn.

While it is disappointing to see a gender pay gap, it does shine a light on where we can do more. In particular, the over-representation of female talent in our early career non-commission based roles.

We are committed to building a strong pipeline of female talent for future leadership and more senior roles. We will also continue to invest in training, supporting, educating and empowering our managers to attract and hire diverse talent that is representative of our talent pool in Ireland, while also cultivating an environment of belonging where diverse talent thrives.”

Some of the initiatives that are in place to promote diversity, inclusion, and belonging across the organisation include:

Women in Leadership Programme (WiN) and Steer

Our Women in Leadership Programme (WiN) is a management development programme for women of high potential. It aims to address some of the issues that may potentially surround and prevent women progressing to senior level roles, focus on overcoming self-limiting beliefs, networking, and each participant in WiN programme also receives an executive sponsor, and professional coaching.

We have increased our focus on retention and development of mid-career women, launching Steer - a Programme aimed at supporting our mid-career female talent to grow as leaders, and also the WiN pay it forward Programme in which WiN alumni share their learnings with our earlier in career female population.

Our Employee Resource Groups

LinkedIn has several Employee Resource Groups that aim to create a sense of belonging and community for all of our employees. These include ‘Women at LinkedIn’, which is an inclusive community of women and allies that empowers and inspires women to own and grow their careers, providing opportunities to learn via a range of external and internal workshops and events.

In addition, LinkedIn has a ‘Families at LinkedIn’ Resource Group, with the mission to drive a sense of belonging for all families. Parents, caregivers and allies support each other by raising awareness about different experiences, providing learning and education opportunities and helpful resources. Also ‘Wisdom at LinkedIn’ is a community to support employees as they progress through the life stages, with a focus on creating multi-generational learning opportunities, embracing different learning styles, and supporting employees to manage their careers later in life.

Providing the right benefits

Our benefits are designed to support all our employees as individuals, whatever stage of life they may be at, but they are also designed to attract and retain female talent. Over the past number of years we have introduced coaching for new parents, support for emergency child or elder care needs, enhanced family care and bereavement leave, financial health seminars and clinics, fertility and adoption assistance and our health plans also now incorporate female specific and family focused health benefits. These benefits are vital to ensuring our employees can have balance in their work and personal lives.

Hybrid Working

At LinkedIn, we recognise that every individual and team works differently, so we have introduced hybrid working for all our employees, where we trust each other to do our best work where it works best for us and our teams. We are working hard to ensure that we provide an inclusive experience for everyone and are empowering individuals to have flexibility in how they get their work done, which we believe helps those with caring commitments to achieve the balance they need.

I confirm that LinkedIn has produced its Gender Pay Gap calculations in accordance with the requirements of The EMPLOYMENT EQUALITY ACT 1998 (SECTION 20A) (GENDER PAY GAP INFORMATION) REGULATIONS 2023 and that the calculations are accurate at the time of publishing.
